LOCAL HEROES

On January 26, the Shire held its Australia Day '08 Award Ceremony. Five members of our community and Yarra Glen friends were given recognition for their major contribution to the community as hard working volunteers and leaders. They were presented with:-

“CERTIFICATES OF RECOGNITION” AWARDS

Iris Caddy was recognised for the many local organizations she supports, especially the Yarra Glen Living and Learning Centre, and the Yarra Valley Tree Group. Iris is a key member of the Steels Creek Stitchers and is always available to help people in need. She is a dear friend of many people in the district. She is one of the support pillars of Yarra Glen, Dixons Creek and Steels Creek.

Kevin Heeley has, over the years, played many roles supporting the communities of Yarra Glen and Christmas Hills. He is President of the Friends of the Yarra Flats Billabongs, and a member of the Christmas Hills C.F.A. Kevin has been Manager of Gulf Station and has provided sound advice on many aspects of the development of Yarra Glen.

Christine Mullen is an artist with unique talent. She and her husband, Chris, have been instrumental in establishing the Yarra Glen Easter Art Show, soon to hold its 7th exhibition. Collectively these exhibitions have raised around $20,000 for children's charities. Christine is a key person in the Steels Creek community as the provider of inspirational suppers at our regular "Movie Nights".

Joe Pacquola is the Head Master of the Yarra Glen Primary School and in that capacity plays a most important role in providing education and social development for our children. Joe was a member of the Interim Township Group which ran the "Values and Vision:" project for Yarra Glen. He is a member of several advisory groups in Yarra Glen and is an inspiration to parents and students.

Marjorie Woollands. Margery is a resident of Dixons Creek and has spent a considerable amount of time in recent months working to obtain a doctor for Yarra Glen and district. She is immediate Past President of the Yarra Glen Chamber of Commerce, and as the Chamber's publicity person was the driving force in getting the Melba Festival established. She is a tireless worker for the community.

Historical Society has a new Home and you are invited to the opening

The grand opening of the new rooms in The Memorial Hall for the Yarra Glen and District Historical Society takes place on Saturday 2nd February at 2 pm. Entry from the rear car park off Anzac Avenue.

Landcare

At its Annual Meeting last December, Ivan Filsell stepped into the role of Coordinator, taking over from John O'Neill. We have recently received advice that grant applications for projects have had mixed results. We have again received Support and Promotion & Development funding. However due to the overall amount of funding available, our recent application for funding a Deer and Pest Animal Management Project was not able to be funded.

Steels Creek Landcare proposes that it will continue with the Deer and Pest Animal Management Project, but in a modified form. The first actions will involve circulating a community survey to discover the extent and nature of damage being encountered. This survey is expected to be circulated shortly.

It is also anticipated that further action will be programmed for additional planting and mulching of the revegetation work commenced last year along Steels Creek Road - further details of dates and activities will be publicised at Steels Creek Market and in coming editions of The Jolly Thing.

For further information, contact Ivan Filsell (ph 5965 2248), or David Allan (ph 5965 2556)

Presidents Prattle

Well we are into another year now. Children and grandchildren are back at school, those of us unfortunate enough to have to work are returning to the workplace, and the rest can look forward to enjoying another year of fun activities in Steels Creek.

Towards the end of last year we saw another successful Garden Show and had a very enjoyable evening of Christmas carols. Congratulations to the organizers and the many helpers who contributed to the smooth running of those events.

In December Eric Tetlow and I attended the Yarra Glen Primary school Year 6 presentation evening to present the school History prize. This award is sponsored by the Community Centre to foster an interest in history in young people and in particular in the local history of our area. This year the recipient was Jessie Nahon and I am sure she will get many hours of enjoyment from the book she received as her prize.

Most of the external building works at SC3 have now been finished by the Council.

Work commenced on stripping out the interior, ready for the refurbishment of the kitchen area, on a pleasantly warm day of 39C. Thanks to the wrecking crew for a great job – no need to visit the gym that week. The builders will be on site from the end of January to install the new window at the rear; new kitchen cupboards and benches; cook-top; range-hood; and boiling water unit. When it is all finished we should have a really useful and flexible set up. It is hoped that works are completed within a relatively short time -----but!

Do The Right Thing Put Your Money In The Tin

No Such Thing As A Free Lunch (Or a self funded Community Centre).

It is an insurance requirement that every person using the Centre sign the Register.

It is also really important for the ongoing viability of the Centre that everyone who uses the facilities contributes to our funds. The $2 contribution is a small price to pay to keep a Community facility such as ours in Steels Creek

Clamberers

This year's walks are expected to start on the last Sunday in March (30th March). The first walk is planned as a picnic and stroll near the Yarra River at Warrandyte State Park near Jumping Creek (Melways 24 A10). Enter from Jumping Creek Road (Melways 24 A11). Plan to arrive for lunch by 12.00 Noon. We'll have lunch first, then take a short walk on some of the tracks in the park (about 4 kms). Bring your own everything (toilets available - Just as well as ours is a bit heavy. Editor). Don't feel like walking? Why not come to enjoy a picnic with us anyway?!

Subsequent monthly walks (on the last Sunday each month until and including November) will be publicised in The Jolly Thing and announced on Steels Creek Market days.

Time-Travelling in Steels Creek...

It's not every day that one can go time-travelling in Steels Creek. However, dear reader, I recently was able to do so, and would like to pass the opportunity on to you too!

It all started when I met an old friend, Greg, who is a surveyor by profession and a collector by nature. We got talking and I happened to mention that I had once seen an old map of the Upper Steels Creek area that showed some walking tracks that are no longer visible. Greg immediately told me he had quite a collection of maps (surprise!), including a 1935 copy of the old 1 inch to the mile (1:63,360) 'Yan Yean' survey map covering that particular area. Remember those maps? Fascinating information and awesome cartography, but what a weird scale – 1:63360! Of course, it simply reflects the wonders of the old Imperial system of measurement – 12 inches in a foot, 3 feet in a yard, and 1,760 yards in a mile. Hence one inch on the map is equal to $12 \times 3 \times 1760 = 63,360$ inches on the ground. In these enlightened Metric days, we can now enjoy much more 'logical' map scales, including a 1:50,000, which of course looks and feels something like the old 1:63360 maps, but is a little bit easier to read. Just what some of us older explorers might need!

But I digress! A few days later, my friend Greg delighted me by posting me the map that he had mentioned – the 1935 Yan Yean sheet! What a delight! And it was then, using the map, that I was able to start my Time Travelling! Not surprisingly perhaps, my first time journey was to the area along Old Kinglake Road where we now live. The road was open then, although it seems to have only ever really been a quite minor road. There was no Brennan Avenue back then, and the only buildings shown were two houses which appear to be Hannah's cottage and what is now John and Adrienne's house at 'Rivendell Farm'.

I then travelled to Hunts Lane. No tennis courts shown, but three houses on the south side of Hunts Lane between Steels Creek Road and the creek. Interestingly, when I travelled across the Hunts Lane bridge on my 1935 journey, I found that the road had a distinctly different alignment east of the bridge for about three quarters of a mile, and also seems to have 'moved' a bit at the Dixons Creek end too. Interestingly, I also found that Hargreaves Road also seems to have a slightly different route to its present alignment, but even then, it did not physically exist past what is now Keith and Lindy Montell's property. It was interesting to reflect that the cartographers had the facts right back then in 1935 (no satellite pictures then!), whereas Google Maps today encourages drivers to follow the non-existent section of Hargreaves Road that it shows connecting to the Melba Highway! (There are many other examples of non-existent roads that Google Maps and other GPS's insist exist, but which were not evident on my journey back to 1935.

And so I travelled on, all over that Yan Yean sheet, allowing it to take me back to 1935, before the 1939 fires, before World War 2, and before Sugarloaf Reservoir was there. But many other features were there, over 70 years ago! Christmas Hills school (on a differently aligned road). The schools at Steels Creek and Dixons Creek were there too (although the Yarra Glen school was not). The post office at the Steels Creek School is shown and the old post office in Yarra Glen was still on Symond Street just about where the mail-box remains to this day.

I could go on and on about what I found on my time-travel journey to 1935, but, dear reader, I will save you from further serious boredom by refraining from doing so now. However, if you would like to take a mini-time travel journey of your own, I can provide you with the means to do so. I have scanned a small A4 sized part of the map (3.67 Meg jpeg file) from near Yering Station to north of Kinglake, and including the Steels Creek valley. If you would like a copy, email me on eda@wideband.net.au and I will forward a copy to you. Enjoy!!!

Yarra Glen Easter Art Show

Celebrating seven years of success, the Yarra Glen Grand Easter Exhibition will be bigger and better than ever this year. Supported by generous funding from the Shire of Yarra Ranges as well as by the participation of more than 150 local artists from the Yarra Valley and held at Balgownie Estate, this major exhibition has consistently provided a wonderful experience for all.

Last year produced the best result ever with $ 37,339 total sales, 156 out of 497 works sold (31%). There were 57 framed, 87 unframed and 14 sculptures taken into new homes.

More than 50 local volunteers make the event possible through their tireless efforts and dedication to promoting fine art in the valley. As well as a significant contribution to the Royal Children's Hospital Good Friday Appeal is made from commissions; in 2007 works of art valued at more than $ 2500 were donated to both the Dixons Creek and Yarra Glen CFA Brigades.

The show is open at Balgownie Estate (Melway 267 G7) daily from 10am to 6pm over the four day Easter weekend. Those seeking more information, entry forms, or to volunteer their time please contact:

Rainfall Report – to end of January 2008

Gauge Location	December 2007	January 2008	Total for 2007	Total for 2006
'Yarradene Farm', Yarra Ridge	75	60	605	572
'Blackwood Hill', Pinnacle Lane	75.2	64.8	618.2	551.1
'Newera', Brennan Avenue	67.4	59.4	616.7	568.6
'Kilravock', Greenwoods Lane	60	75	606	607.5

Note: The average annual rainfall since 2001 at Yarradene Farm is understood to be 750 mm.

With the wet up north, 70% of Queensland declared a flood disaster area (6 months ago it was a drought disaster area) lets hope we maybe returning to a more normal weather pattern with a 900 mm plus annual rainfall again.

The Banq Reborn As Hargreaves Hill Dining Room.

It's such a wonderful experience to see the rebirth of the old Banq into a truly lovely restaurant, beer and wine bar. Our extremely talented Beth Williams and her partner Simon have managed to create something very special. Just one look at the building tells you it's a fresh and new happening.

You can call in for a glass of amazing beer on tap, apart from producing their wonderful Hargreaves Hill Pale Ale, this dynamic duo have sourced a huge variety of beers from around the world and framed some amazing food to accompany same.

A SMALL SELECTION OF THE MENU

Yarra Valley farm salmon with sorrel beurre blanc.

Hot potted rabbit with olives and grilled flatbread.

Grilled asparagus with soft polenta, gorgonzola and oregano.

Andrew and I had a shared platter that was delicious, buffalo mozzarella with an oven roasted tomato, white anchovies on butter lettuce and seared beef with a fabulous relish. For next course Andrew devoured angel hair pasta, home made and fresh as! slathered with fresh herbs various. My duck neck sausage was truly sensational. I am yet to get to dessert, or breakfast but have been told by many that I am missing out on a great experience.

IT'S A MUST DO DINING EXPERIENCE! WELL DONE BETH AND SIMON.

Steels Creek Tennis & Social Club Happenings

Club Improvements. The new synthetic grass courts are in and the word is positive. Even the lights seem brighter and more even. Come on Monday or Thursday evening and try them out. Thanks to the Shire of Yarra Ranges for funding 60% of the cost through their Community Grants Program. We had a good time on 27 January at our Tennis Open Day and Grand Opening of the courts. Councillor Jeanette McRae presided with 8-year old Eamonn Davis helping. Thanks to all who attended.

Annual Fund Raiser Raffle. Thank you also to our raffle prize donors: the Lilydale International, Berry Café, Toolangi Tavern, Balgownie Estate, De Bortoli Wines, and Junction Vineyard. The prizes were much appreciated by the winners at the December 15th drawing.

Coming – Progressive Dinner. On 5th April we will be having a "progressive" dinner – starters at one home, mains at another, and dessert at a third. Should be a gastronomic hit!

Social Tennis. Monday and Thursday night social tennis is going well – come have a hit and enjoy the evenings and the softer impact courts! We'll be lighting the Barbee about 6:30 pm on Thursdays if you want to come and make an outing of it.

Ed Bartosh, Secretary, SCTC

Vale, Ron Caddy

We have been shocked to learn of the sudden passing of Ron Caddy on Australia Day, January 26. Ron was present at the Shire award ceremony to see Iris presented with her Certificate of Recognition. At a family dinner that evening he fell ill and died in hospital later. Ron was a long time resident of Yarra Glen and esteemed member of the local RSL Sub-branch. We will miss seeing his frequent walks with his dog as well as his friendship. Our hearts go out to his wife Iris and the rest of his family.

From Reel to DVD the evolving Film Club

As we are all now aware we are unfortunately losing Christine and Chris Mullen to the bright lights of the city. Their coordination of our film nights was excellent and our warmest thanks are extended to them. They are not however forgiven for "Tom Mix".

On a positive note though this has forced us to move to new technology and we have purchased a DVD projector package from the Victorian Federation of Film Societies.

This new equipment will enable us to screen a more varied programme of new and old films. We may, for example, borrow from the Whitehorse Film Society that has a couple of hundred titles.

Volunteers required! In the interim I will coordinate (and pick the films) the first few nights but we do need a small committee/group to be the actual club and to run the nights and organize the food, Contact Keith Montell.

Screening on Friday 14th March: meal from 6pm, film at 7pm.

A short feature/cartoon first followed by:

BROTHER, WHERE ART THOU (2000)

This film, starring George Clooney; John Turturro; and Tim Blake Nelson, is based loosely (very) on the travels of Ulysses. Three prisoners escape from a Mississippi prison farm and embark on a wacky and hilarious adventure to retrieve stolen loot. Along the way they meet various strange characters including a blind prophet, sexy sirens, and a one-eyed bible salesman (John Candy).

The soundtrack is a great mixture of blues; bluegrass; gospel and soul/folk.

Screening on Friday 28th March: meal from 6pm, film at 7pm.

A short feature/cartoon first followed by:

WORLDS FASTEST INDIAN (2007)

No it's not a western! There are no cowboys and redskins in this movie.

This really is a charming film with drama; excitement; romance: and some very funny (especially for the over 60's males) scenes.

Starring Anthony Hopkins, as an ageing and slightly eccentric backyard mechanic, and a 1920's Indian Motorcycle this movie is a great story of determination and triumph over adversity. Set in New Zealand and America the supporting cast is outstanding.

Screening on Friday 11th April: meal from 6pm, film at 7pm.

A short feature/cartoon first followed by:

FRIED GREEN TOMATOES at the Whistle Stop Cafe (1992)

A strange title but a movie that we think will hold you under its spell.

In the tradition of the "Old Southern Storyteller" this film is a tale of family and friendship in rural Alabama. It is at times a humorous; uplifting and joyful story. Also there is drama, suspense and sadness. It ends with a deep understanding of the importance of friendships built through the power of words as well as deeds.

Starring Kathy Bates; Jessica Tandy; Mary Louise Parker; and Mary Stuart Masterton.

Screening on Friday 25th April: meal from 6pm, film at 7pm.

A short feature/cartoon first followed by

THE AFRICAN QUEEN

What better than a war movie for Anzac day! Set in Africa during the First World War. Starring Katharine Hepburn as a prim and proper Missionary spinster and Humphrey Bogart as a scruffy; hard bitten; world weary; and cantankerous (typical Steels Creek male) riverboat skipper. An all time classic and not to be missed.

Travellers' Tales

Last year we ran a series of Travel Talks, presented by community members, featuring various local and overseas destinations. We would like to do this again, perhaps commencing in May, but need volunteers to present their story.

Presentations are ideally about one hour long, with 100 slides the absolute maximum.

We can provide the equipment for screening. Data can be on a CD or data stick or even direct from your computer.

Please contact David Allan if you are willing to give it a go.

What will he do?

The answer to the question what will Chris Mullen do without grapes to prune, wine to make, grass to mow and publications to edit has emerged, around the corner from their new abode is the ABC, the Alphington Bowling Club to the uninitiated, and Chris has been seen having bowling lessons, our loss is their gain. The Clubs old air raid shelter has already been earmarked for a wine cellar and extensive kitchen renovations are mooted.

Garden Club Opening Meeting

The garden club will hold its opening meeting for 2008 on Tuesday 12th February at Christine Tomlins place, 169 Hunts Lane. BYO chair, meat, drinks & a salad or sweet to share. All welcome

Croquet 2008 Update

After an exhausting croquet seminar and work shop at the Queenscliffe Croquet Club, the conveners of the annual Steels Creek croquet day have come away inspired by their teachers with a new armoury of shots and a set of new balls.

The lawn is also under going renewal after the drought under the strict control of Bill, the grounds man, who is patrolling the permitters night and day to ward off birds, rabbits, kangaroos and wombats. It will hopefully be up to scratch (that is not scratched) by Spring when the next tournament will be held.

Festival Valley

The next few months see our quiet valley host The Melba Festival, Grape Grazing Week, and the Yarra Glen Art Show. Can we survive this hectic schedule or do we head off further into the hills.

A Reminder - Stories sought

Be it sad, serious or humorous: local or not. Jot it down and send it to the editor (email thejollything@yarraglen.com). You could be the winner of the inaugural Chris Mullen award for literary excellence. The winner will be announced at the Community Carols 2008. Contributions for the next edition close on March 28th
