The Yarra Glen RSL will commemorate the sacrifices of the ANZACs on Monday, April 25th 2016 with the traditional march and service. The march will start at the Yarra Glen Police Station at 10:15am, and the service will start approximately 10:30 at the conclusion of the march. Students from the four area primary schools will address what they feel is significant about the day to them and their communities. The Yarra Glen Primary School Choir will lead the National Anthem. Following the service, refreshments will be served in the Memorial Hall, and a sausage sizzle will be served outside for a gold coin donation to the ANZAC Appeal.

For all the ANZACs, Memories of a soldier –Graham Lloyd

44 years ago today was the start of a complete change in my life. It's the day I joined the Army as an Army Apprentice Musician. It's the sort of day you never forget. I remember everything from waking up in my bed at home that day until around 10:30pm going to bed that night in a hut with some 16 other young blokes with the strains of the bugle call, Last Post, sounding through the speakers that dotted the Army Apprentices School barracks. It was scary, exciting, tiring but, most of all memorable.

The night before my family and I were at a 'going away' party for Jamie Redfern in Scoresby (Jamie's family and ours were long-time friends). My father, a heavy drinker, decided to leave the party with us in tow at around 0300h to drive the hour back home, pissed as a newt, with me getting to bed around 0430h. At 0700h I dragged myself out of bed and into the shower. Sadly, my father couldn't be woken from his drink induced sleep until around 0900h. The 'swearing in' ceremony was at 0900h at the Army Recruiting Centre, then in Flinders Lane – over an hour's drive away through peak hour traffic. We finally managed to get him up and then had to endure a 'hair raising' drive into Melbourne (normally an hour's length, on this day 44 years ago it was just over half an hour).

Got to Flinders Lane...they'd held off the swearing in ceremony waiting for me to arrive (no mobile phones back then). So, with no time to breathe, all the appies present were sworn in around 1000h, bundled into about six Army buses for the almost 2-hour drive to Balcombe. I slept most of the way. We were bundled out at the other end of our trip to be lined up into 3 ranks, Army fashion, yelled at to come to attention then at ease, a roll call was made, some instructions given regarding soldiers who wore a lanyard and/or blues cap (which meant nothing to me as I had no idea what a lanyard was at the time, nor a blues cap) and we then went to our huts. The first bloke I saw in 'my' hut was a huge monster of a bloke whose name was Pat Pickett.

Within a few minutes I was in my hut by myself...Pat had gone to collect his 'gear' from the store and no one else was in sight...I can't remember why. Then this tall bloke marched into the hut wearing, you guessed it, a hat which I learned later was a 'blues cap'. He march past me in a soldierly fashion then abruptly stopped a few feet away from me, turned and said, "Well, what do you say?" Not having taken any notice of the earlier instructions regarding blues caps/lanyards I had no idea so I meekly said, 'G'day'. He, in disbelief, then yelled, "LOUDER". Wanting to follow orders I yelled, as loudly as I could, "G'DAY!!!!". I was puzzled as to why I had to yell g'day so loud but, orders are orders. To my fright, he turned on me, enraged and started screaming at me...in amongst his bluster I recall words like, "You don't say g'day [which puzzled me given he told me to say it louder in the first place] you yell, "STAND FAST" and stand to attention until told you can 'relax'" Anyway, I never forgot to yell STAND FAST after that little incident. His name was Van Ree and he was our 'Apprentice Sergeant Major'. One thing that is as clear to me today as 44 years ago was the smell in the air. I was a city boy back then. Now I have 12-acres and cows, etc., and late in the year is hay cutting season. The first time we cut hay here, the smell in the air transported me back to my first day in the Army. Being on the Mornington Peninsula, hay was being cut everywhere at the time I joined and the smell permeated the atmosphere. Within days other smells were to permeate my life including boot polish, brasso, and every form of pimple cream you can imagine, cigarette smoke, cigar smoke and even pipe smoke. Add to that any number of body odours coming from 16 young men whose home, for the foreseeable future, was this 'guts' hut numbered Q7 North. The memories.

Steels creek Landcare Group

We have a Bunnings BBQ on Sunday 24th April. If you are able to give us a couple of hours help it would be appreciated, either morning or afternoon. This is a great way for us to raise funds to run events or purchase equipment but it does need your help. Email steelscreeklandcare@gmail.com or phone Angie Lloyd 0412 343 242

Our next committee meeting will be in Sunday April 10th at 5pm, we would love to see anyone who is interested in seeing what we do or who would like to make a suggestion to the committee.

Expressions of interested from any Landcare members who would like to attend a subsidised ACUP (Chemical users certificate) course. Cost to the members would be $100 with the balance (of $250) being covered by the Landcare network. If you would be interested please contact the Landcare groups (Chum creek, Dixons creek or Steels creek) to register your interest. In order to run the course we need confirmed participants.

Garden club

For those who may be new to the area or wondering what belonging to a garden club involves the Steels Creek Garden Club has something for everyone.

You may be a novice and want to learn how to grow plants. If so the growing group meets on the last Tuesday of the month at the Steels Creek Centre at 9.30 to grow plants for the November Show. New people are always welcome even if you cannot commit to turning up each month.

On the second Tuesday of each month outings are organised to visit different gardens. For example in April the club is going to The Edible Forest Gardens in Wonga Park.

Every year in November the Steels Creek Flower and Plant Show is held and always attracts a crowd of enthusiasts wanting to buy plants at very minimal cost.

The garden club currently has around sixty members. Membership costs $15.00 and is due in September when the AGM is held and members receive a newsletter once a month.

Whether you want to meet and share ideas with like-minded people, learn about plants, participate a lot or a little, the club has a lot to offer.

Stitchers

We are now starting to work towards our Biggest Morning Tea on Tuesday 31 May 10am-12noon, with a real feeling of pleasurable anticipation that we will be working in conjunction with the Yarra Glen & District Living and Learning Centre. This allows for an expanded occasion, but the same home-baked goodies will still be very much a part of what we offer as will a wide range of raffle prizes. No more steep hill to climb at Steels Creek Community Centre though - now the venue will be the Memo Hall, Yarra Glen.

Further details elsewhere in this Jolly Thing, or contact Debra Trill on 9730 2887 at the Living and Learning Centre. Meanwhile, we'd love to welcome you at Stitchers, come to share working on community projects, or on your own thing, or just to say hello.

WALK WATCH and WONDER! With HEWI

The next itinerary for this bi yearly event from Healesville Environment Watch Inc (HEWI) will begin in Toolangi and finish at Wirrawilla.

This community walk will be led by Evelyn Feller on Sunday May 22, meeting at the Forest Discovery Centre by 10am where we learn more about the future of the new management of this valuable community resource.

Then we will walk along the Sculpture trail which is also about to be revitalized, crossing over to the Yea River to experience the grandeur of our magnificent Mountain Ash and its ecosystems.

Finally we will visit the distinctive biodiversity of the Wirrawilla rainforest, from microscopic liverworts to the majestic canopy of the Myrtle Beech.

Participants will need their lunch, water, rain gear, warm clothing and strong footwear.

Bookings required. Please contact Evelyn: evefeller@gmail.com

An Afternoon of Free Films

HEWI invites you to share and discuss a stimulating double bill on current issues

"The Case for Optimism on Climate Change" is a new TED Talk from Al Gore, presented with the same humour and humanity that he conveyed in 'An Inconvenient Truth'. This short presentation uses up-to-the-minute examples from around the globe and conveys Gore's reasons for optimism that the world can still successfully tackle the threat of climate change. (TED: Technology, Entertainment and Design nonprofit devoted to sharing great ideas in short clips)

Following Q&A and then refreshments, we will watch episode 3 of the new David Attenborough series, "Great Barrier Reef", recently launched on the BBC.

Attenborough returns to his 'most magical place on Earth', and this final episode includes beautiful footage of corals that are now threatened by climate change and detrimental land-based human activities.

10 questions and exceptional answers.

Why do men's clothes have buttons on the right while women's clothes have buttons on the left?

BECAUSE: When buttons were invented, they were very expensive and worn primarily by the rich. Since most people are right-handed, it is easier to push buttons on the right through holes on the left. Because wealthy women were dressed by maids, dressmakers put the buttons on the maid's right! And that's where women's buttons have remained since.

Why do ships and aircraft use 'mayday' as their call for help?

BECAUSE: This comes from the French language – 'm'aidez' - meaning 'help me', which is pronounced as 'mayday.'

Why are zero scores in tennis called 'love'?

BECAUSE: In France, where tennis became popular, the round zero on the scoreboard looked like an egg and was called 'l'oeuf,' which is French for 'the egg.' When tennis was introduced in the US, Americans (mis)pronounced it 'love.'

Why does an X at the end of a letter signify a kiss?

BECAUSE: In the Middle Ages, when many people were unable to read or write, documents were often signed using an X. Kissing the X represented an oath to fulfill obligations specified in the document. The X and the kiss eventually became synonymous.

Why is shifting responsibility to someone else called 'passing the buck'?

BECAUSE: In card games, it was once customary to pass an item, called a buck, from player to player to indicate whose turn it was to deal. If a player did not wish to assume the responsibility of dealing, he would 'pass the buck' to the next player.

Why do people clink their glasses before drinking a toast?

BECAUSE: It used to be common for someone to try to kill an enemy by offering him a poisoned drink. To prove to a guest that a drink was safe, it became customary for a guest to pour a small amount of his drink into the glass of the host. Both men would drink it simultaneously. When a guest trusted his host, he would touch or clink the host's glass with his own.

Why are people in the public eye said to be 'in the limelight'?

BECAUSE: Invented in 1825, limelight was used in lighthouses and theatres by burning a cylinder of lime to produce a brilliant light. In the theatre, a performer 'in the limelight' was the centre of attention.

Why is someone, who is feeling great, 'on cloud nine'?

BECAUSE: Types of clouds are numbered according to the altitudes they attain, with nine being the highest cloud. If someone is said to be 'on cloud nine', that person is floating well above worldly cares.

In golf, is the term 'Caddie' used?

BECAUSE: When Mary Queen of Scots went to France as a young girl, Louis (King of France) learned that she loved the Scottish game 'golf.'

He had the first course outside of Scotland built for her enjoyment. To make sure she was properly chaperoned (and guarded) while she played, Louis hired cadets from a military school to accompany her. Mary liked this a lot and, when she returned to Scotland (not a very good idea in the long run), she took the practice with her.

In French, the word 'cadet' is pronounced 'ca-day' and the Scots changed it into 'caddie.'

Why are many coin collection jars shaped like pigs?

BECAUSE: Long ago, dishes and cookware in Europe were made of a dense orange clay called 'pygg'.

When people saved coins in jars made of this clay, the jars became known as 'pygg banks.'

When an English potter misunderstood the word, he made a container that resembled a pig. And it caught on; hence, 'piggy bank'.

WEATHER REPORT

The dry conditions have continued with February 38 mm below average & March 4 mm below. March was looking pretty dismal until we had 16 & 15 mm on the 18th & 19th.

Temperature wise Coldstream was 2° above average for the daily maximum temperature for summer. To illustrate the temperature difference between our part of the world & that of Melbourne with the cooling effect of the sea breeze, in February, Melbourne had 4 days above 30° whereas Coldstream had 10 & in March it was 6 days & 10 days respectively. This was really emphasised on 6th March when Melbourne recorded 25° whereas Coldstream had 35°.
