Steels Creek in Summer…

Billie the wombat Joanne Spears

This is a story about a wombat named Billie. It is a story about breaking the law, saving wombat lives and hopefully inspiring others to help us save more.

Billie came into our lives on Australia Day 2018. We found her sitting on the side of the road beside her dead mother, who'd been hit by a car. She was only a couple of months old. I asked my husband Brian if he wanted to rear her until she was ready to go back to the wild. I knew he would say yes. About 40 years ago, he had been looking after a wombat who had died from a having wounded on back after getting stuck under the house and being preyed upon by another wombat. He had always deeply grieved for that animal, and all our friends knew about his wombat story. Now he was going to have another wombat story.

We thought we could register as carers and look after Billie, but that wasn't so straightforward. We were told if we took Billie in, we were breaking the law, but we knew that there are so few carers, and we were willing to do it, so we did especially as she was a local. We learned about what Billie needed. She lived in the house in various cots – she kept outgrowing her accommodation so eventually we made a little outside compound for her. We were aware that she wasn't a pet and we were preparing her for release, but she absolutely loved Brian and would follow him around everywhere as he walked around our property, which is a farm and a B&B. Needless to say our international guests adored Billie and we were able to teach them about wombats and how special they are. …Continued Page 5

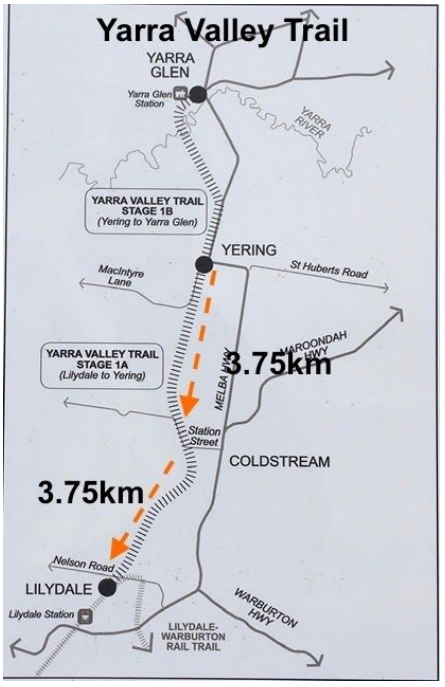
Edition #8 Yarra Valley Trail - Section 1A

This walking, cycling trail is part of a much bigger development which will take many years to complete. It will link Lilydale to Yarra Glen then Healesville - meeting up with the Warburton Trail at Woori Yallock. Construction of Section 1A was completed on Christmas Eve 2019.



How to get there from Yarra Glen.
Drive south on Melba Hwy to McIntryre Lane., turn right and immediately on your left is a parking area for about a dozen vehicles, (sometimes mobile coffee van on location).

Walk distance approx. Section 1A is 7.5km. Yering to Lilydale (one way) (approx. 3.75km Yering to Coldstream. 3.75 km Coldstream to Lilydale. Easy walking with good quality track. Allow approximately 45 - 55 mins per section(on foot).

Where to Start!
You can choose your starting point- Yering, Coldstream, or Lilydale.
I chose to do the walk in two halves.

- 1st half - Yering to Coldstream return.
- 2nd half Coldstream to Lilydale return.

(small parking area on Station St where trail crosses road)

Make sure you wear/take - water and nibbles, sunhat, sunscreen and have either a BUG net or 'anti' BUG stuff, especially on a warm, still day (the flies can be a pest).

The walk.
Starting at Yering, there is evidence of the original Yering Station site, then head south towards Coldstream, enjoying the rural views in all directions keeping Mt Dandenong ahead of you. There are sweeping bends and straight sections with stands of native and poplar trees to provide shade. Small aircraft use the paddocks on the western side to line up their approach to Lilydale Airport. At Coldstream a small section of the 'old' railway line has been retained as a reminder of years gone by. A large sweeping bend in a cutting is well shaded and affords views in different directions. A sign on an 'old' tree states 'tree is to be retained and protected'.

I walked the Coldstream to Lilydale section on New Years day and decided to do a count of the number of walkers/cyclists passing me. In 45 minutes there were 32 cyclists and 2 walkers. There were serious road-bike users, small family groups on varying bikes, people with dogs on leads.
All happy to be out in the fresh air, off the main roads. As I approached Lilydale, the trail merged with the Warburton Trail - so there's another option to explore!!

Historic notes: The rail line was used for 100 years and has been closed for the last 40 years.

Stage 1B, Yering to Yarra Glen: work will start in March 2020 and be completed by December 2021. Work will include repairing the historic bridges and constructing a new bridge over the Yarra River.

From the intrepid local explorer! Peta Whitford

Local Art and Exhibitions

Ivan Filsell

Steels Creek Art Group is getting back into full swing after the usual quiet holiday period. A few years ago we thought that having 4 or 5 regulars to our Thursday afternoon workshop was pretty good but now we are regularly getting 8 to 10 enthusiasts working away. For most of us life is busy and finding time to relax is hard to fit in, so Thursday 1.30-4.30 away from other distractions allows us to pursue our art peacefully

The local art scene is busy as ever and I have been enjoying the Robert Klippel, exhibition "Assembled" on at TWMA until Feb 16th. Klippel is a sculptor who has moved away from using the human form and instead uses found materials to assemble some amazing creations that grow tree like from their bases, or others that are reminiscent of crystal growth under the microscope. Klippel's later work uses obsolete timber patterns as the basis for much larger works. Klippel produced over 1200 sculptures and more than 5,000 drawings before he died in 2001. Thursday, Saturday and Sunday there are usually free guided tours available. Locals (postcode 3777 and 3775) can visit for free on Wednesdays.

On your way to TWMA call in on Reggie at Lyndon gate and after TWMA keep going to Healesville and visit the YAVA gallery almost opposite the pedestrian crossing. Both these galleries feature local artists and regularly change their presentations.

Enjoy our art.

We look forward to you joining us for guaranteed laughs; suspense; and drama together with fine food; good company and a movie in our Gold Class venue.

- March Screening Friday 20th March: Ali's Wedding (2018)

Ali (Osamah Sami), the charming and musically-talented son of a Muslim cleric (Don Hany), struggles to make the right life choices despite the best of intentions. He wants to be with the girl, Dianne (Helana Sawires), he loves, but he's been promised to another girl at his father's mosque. He wants to be the great doctor that the community expects him to be, but he doesn't get the marks. Above all, he wants to make his father proud. To live up to these impossible expectations, he lies about his academic achievements, and then his quest to please his father spirals out of control, with amusing and poignant consequences.

Cost is $10 per person plus $4 for the Centre. For those able to provide food it's just $4 donation for the Centre. Please let me know if you are able to supply a main course, salad or dessert. (Lindy - 5965 2202)

RANGER Q&A - Thursday 13th February 7.00pm Steels Creek Community Centre

Tony Fitzgerald has been Senior Ranger at Kinglake National Park for longer than many of us can remember. He's just about seen it all and to say that Tony knows the Park like the back of his hand would be an understatement!
Few people know the Park better than Tony and it's clear he is still captivated by our region's natural beauty. Join us for an informative evening to share Tony's experiences and also hear the latest news and research from the Park, including:

- What plants and animals have come back since the '09 fires?
- How are we dealing with feral pests like cats, foxes and deer?
- What new weeds should I be concerned about in our area?
- What are the latest developments in the Park?
- What is happening to improve its accessibility and public use?

Light supper included. Further details or RSVP: steelscreeklandcare@gmail.com or 0412 343 242

Classic Blackberry Jam

1kg blackberries
900g sugar
juice of 2 lemons, strained

Combine blackberries with sugar and macerate overnight. Heat berry and sugar mix with lemon juice and bring to the boil. Simmer for approx. 10 minutes, testing the set from 5-7 minutes. Fill your sterilised jars - you should get about five to six delicious jars of jams.

 Add a couple of mint leaves, nutmeg or even a bay leaf to your mix to jazz it up a bit!

After about eighteen months, we knew it was getting time for Billie to go back to the wild, but we were worried about releasing her at Steels Creek because so many wombats have mange. So that began our wombat mange journey. Coincidentally we met a lady from the wombat mange organisation. She does a wonderful job treating wombats with mange all over the Valley. Brian and I started to treat as many wombats as we could in the vicinity. We are often seen running around at night. We put wombat flaps on wombat holes and also use cydectin treatment on the wombat ourselves if we are able to get up close enough to put it on. The result has been that many wombats have been treated. We haven't won the war yet and because some seem to reinfect again from other wombats, however our efforts are making a difference.

All this got us thinking... Steels Creek would make a wonderful conservation zone for wombats. Our Valley has a creek running through it, which makes it perfect for wombat habitat. We could organise and patrol to ensure that there is no wombat mange, and we could educate drivers about slowing down to stop killing the wombats. If other people in Steels Creek would like to do this we could lobby the council to make it happen.

Getting back to Billie. When she was about 16 months old and 30 kilograms, she did what everyone said she would do, she got up and left. We saw scratch marks on both sides of her compound, so we believe another wombat came to help and encourage her to leave. We thought that she was gone forever, but after about three weeks we came home one day and there she was in her little bed in the laundry, saying, “I’m home”. She was a lot more timid at that point and very weary. She did have quite a few ticks but didn't appear to have mange. She had some loss of hair on her arms as if she had been either digging or fighting. We treated her for the usual things, and she settled in at home just like always, but we were aware that this was only a visit. We knew a time would come where she would head off again, and sure enough she did. She’s been gone now for about six weeks. If you’ve taken the trouble of reading this article, I ask you to please be careful on the roads because not only are there all the wonderful wild wombats, but Billie is wandering round as well. We would hate to think that anything could happen to her. So, let’s ask the council if we can make Steels Creek a wombat conversation zone and eradicate mange and protect Billie and her friends.

If you see a wombat with mange please ring Mange management 0431600125 or website www.mangemanagement.org.au or if wish to ring Joanne locally on 97302233

Addendum. Billie was found by a wonderful neighbour who is a new comer to Steels Creek, Emma, she was badly injured either by a dog or wombat attack and was extremely close to death. She has recovered to nearly full health after seven weeks of care. I will keep you all informed of Billies future Jaunts.

Steels Creek Book Group Review

Julie Riddell

December - The Secret Life Of Bees
Sue Monk Kidd

Three black beekeeping sisters live together in South Carolina during the racist 1960s. They give shelter to two runaways – a white teenage girl escaping her violent father, and her black maid who suffered a terrible racist induced beating after trying to register for voting. The beekeeping sisters are filled with beautiful caring qualities which shine through and give this book its edge.

January - The Talented Mr Ripley
Patricia Highsmith Benjamin Black

Tom Ripley is an expert at stealing other peoples' identities. He skilfully adopts a wealthy young man's name, clothing etc. and lives his carefree life in Europe. However, he has to remain constantly alert or else he'll get caught out by friends and authorities. He has lots of exciting moments escaping discovery.

SCCC bookgroup currently has no vacancies, please contact Julie - 0422 424 694 if you're interested in joining. In the meantime, all our books are available to borrow from Eastern Regional Library.

Steels Creek Stitchers

Jane Calder

A couple of weeks ago a group of keen stitchers gathered at SCCC to continue their earlier efforts in making Quilts for Orphans. In no time at all the fabric selectors, ironers and stitchers had colourful quilt tops emerging, ready to be sent off to others who will assemble and finish them. Thanks to all who joined in, Denise and Jane

Saturday Morning Market Fiona makes scones, Angie preserves, Elin brings eggs, Amanda makes cheese from her goat's milk and Jane always brings her garden produce… these are just a few. Not only are there are many delicious and tempting items for sale at our markets - including coffee with scones and cream but also it is a time to catch up and chat with neighbours and friends. Bring along your goods to sell.

Congratulations to the kids from Saint Brigid's who came to a recent Saturday market at SCCC and set up a table to sell their original art as a fundraiser to support the Bushfire appeal. Market shoppers responded to the tune of $112.10, a wonderful effort to support the wonderful Firies wherever and whoever they may be.

Come along on the 2nd and 4th Saturday.

Market dates: February 8 and 22, March 14 and 28 - 10am

Yarra Glen History Group

Yarra Glen & District Living & Learning Centre

Yarra Glen history has found a new home. A History Group is being established, in the heart of community activities, at the Yarra Glen & District Living & Learning Centre. Formerly the Yarra Glen & District Historical Society, the focus of the new Group will be to respond to the needs of both current and former residents of the district.

Information about our activities for 2020 is available in the Program of the Yarra Glen & District Living & Learning Centre (YGDLLC).

As part of the YGDLLC the History Group is planning to organise a focused workshop or themed presentation at least once each term. Many of these will be of general interest; that is, not confined to the history of Yarra Glen. The first workshop will be "Getting Started on Your Family Tree" presented by Cathy Dodson on Sunday 22 March, 1.30pm – 3.30pm. Class Fee: $10 members, $15 non members

In addition, the History Group will have an open meeting each Tuesday afternoon during term: members of the community who are interested in local history are encouraged to come along either regularly or as individual needs arise.

Contact the Yarra Glen & District Living & Learning Centre for the Term 1 2020 Program, booking of workshops and classes, and further information:

Steels Creek Vintage 2020

Vineyards are in veraison around the Yarra Valley and with nearly 30 wineries in and around Steels Creek, things are about to get wet and sticky. It's been a testing summer with smoke taint impacting some vineyards from East Gippsland fires and late summer hail damage for others. It is now the season for European wasps and birds to start creeping in... It is estimated that the crop for vintage 2020 has dropped as much as 80% in some areas. Alas! We are optimistic. Each year brings challenges for growers and winemakers… we may just see a few different styles of wines arise from the challenges of this growing season…

The Weather Report by Barry Sheffield

Our rainfall over the last couple of months has been a matter of extreme contrasts. In December we had very dry conditions with the rainfall being 54 mm below average. The yearly total for 2019 was 148 mm below average. By contrast in January we had 112 mm above average, largely due to thunderstorms. In my case of 161.6 mm, it was the highest rainfall ever recorded for January at Yarra Glen. The previous highest being 151.5 mm in 1963 from the BOM records 1890-1974 and 96 mm in 1995 from my own records from 1977 to the present. Similarly at Blackwood Hill Malcolm recorded the highest January total in 34 years of recording.
Temperature wise the mean maximum for December was 1.3° above average for Coldstream and 0.4° above for Melbourne. Minimum temperatures for December were 0.6° above for Coldstream and 1.0° above for Melbourne. Worth noting is that Hopetoun and Horsham in north west Victoria had the highest temperature ever recorded in Victoria of 47.9° on the 20th December. Also of interest on that same day Coldstream had a temperature differential of 32° (8.5° min. – 40.7° max.). For 2019 Australia's mean maximum temperatures were the warmest on record at 2.09° above average. Mean maximum temperatures for January were exactly average for Coldstream and 0.9° above average for Melbourne. Mean minimum temperatures for January were 0.9° below average for Coldstream (only 3.8° on new years day) and 0.8° above average for Melbourne.
